

NEW YORK STATE DEBT COLLECTION MANDATE

The State University of New York reserves the right to withhold academic records from any student who has not satisfied or made provision to satisfy all obligations incurred in the State University of New York system. Unpaid accounts are, in due course, turned over to an external collection agency. Collection costs are added to the amount of indebtedness.